

Inspire Allied Health and Education Group Newsletter - April 2024

Welcome to our April newsletter! We're excited to share some updates and important information from our clinics that we believe will enrich your experience with us.

Diagnostic Handouts

We understand the importance of providing resources and support to parents and guardians. That's why we have added valuable downloadable documents about childhood difficulties and diagnosis on our website. Additionally, our reports now include links to downloadable documents for easy access to helpful information.

You can find these handouts by following this link to our website: Diagnostic Handouts | Inspire Allied Health And Education Group \(inspireaheg.com.au\).

New Participant Guides

We're pleased to introduce new participant guides packed with essential information about our policies, procedures, and support services. Our 'Welcome Guide for Participants and their Supporters' is an essential read for all our families. We have also updated all supplementary guides which includes accessing therapy assistant support services, community support services, star kid's program, therapy bundles, music tuition, and more.

You can find these guides by following this link: <https://www.inspireaheg.com.au/participant-guides>

Ezy Collect – Simplypaid

We have sent all participants an email with a new convenient and secure payment system for private and self-managed NDIS participants which includes a link to an online payment portal for Simplypaid and a direct debit option. This new system will also send out invoices and reminders about outstanding accounts.

Say goodbye to hassles and hello to easy payments! If you missed the email, please contact our administration team to find out more.

School Holiday Therapy Packs

We are excited to launch our new therapy packs in time for the public holidays and school holidays.

You can purchase our therapy packs in place of your therapy sessions or in addition to over the school holidays. Our new packs are filled with fun and engaging activities and are accompanied by a range of resources.
